

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Yoshinori Abe is Professor at Gakushuin University Faculty of Law, Japan. He obtained B.A. and M.A. from the University of Tokyo. Professor Abe continued to study international law to get an LL.M. from the University of Cambridge. From 2007 to 2008, he was a visiting fellow at the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law, Cambridge. Since 2008, Professor Abe has been serving concurrently as a Researcher at the WTO Dispute Settlement

Division and the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs. His major research field is WTO law and international investment law. He is a Council Member of the Japan Association of International Economic Law. He may be contacted at: yoshinori.abe@gakushuin.ac.jp

Ying Bi is Assistant Professor of Law at Zhejiang University in Hangzhou, China. She was awarded an LL.B. and LL.M. from Tsinghua University in Beijing, China and an LL.D. from Kyushu University in Fukuoka, Japan. Dr. Ying Bi practiced law at the Japanese law firm, Soga Uryu & Itoga in Tokyo. Her major research interest covers international trade law, competition law and regional trade agreements. Professor Ying Bi has published in these areas such as DUMPING: ANTIDUMPING LAW OR COMPETITION LAW (Intellectual Property Publishing House 2011) and a series of research papers in the highly renowned academic reviews including JOURNAL OF WORLD INVESTMENT & TRADE and MANCHESTER JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC LAW. She may be contacted at: biying@zju.edu.cn Jaemin Lee is currently Professor of Law at Hanyang University School of Law, Seoul, Korea. Dr. Lee went to Seoul National University (LL.B./LL.M./Ph.D.), Georgetown University (LL.M.) and Boston College Law School (J.D.). Upon graduating from Seoul National University's College of Law in 1992, he joined the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Republic of Korea as a career diplomat. Dr. Lee served as Deputy Director of the Treaties Division and the North American Trade Division of the Foreign Ministry. Between 2001 and 2005, he practiced law at Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (Washington, D.C. office) as an associate attorney of the firm's international trade group. Since 2005, Dr. Lee has been teaching International Trade Law and Public International Law at Hanyang University. He may be contacted at: jaemin@hanyang.ac.kr

Seung Hwan Choi is Professor of Law at Kyunghee University Law School, and Director of the Kyung Hee Research Center of International Security and Trade Law. He was awarded B.A./LL.M./Ph.D. at Seoul National University. He also received an LL.M. from New York University Law School. Dr. Choi's main areas of teaching and research include international law, international economic law, biotechnology and international law, international export control law and international investment law. He was a visiting Professor at China University of Political Science and Law (2011) and the City University of Hong Kong (2012). He participated in the DDA agricultural negotiation and conferences of the Working Group on Liability and Redress in the Context of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, as a member of Korean Delegation. He may be contacted at: tomichoi@khu.ac.kr.

Kamrul Hossain is Senior Researcher at the Northern Institute of Environmental and Minority Law ("NIEM"), Arctic Centre at the University of Lapland. In 2011, he was appointed as the Acting Director of the NIEM. Before joining there, he held several positions including one at the University of Helsinki. He did his post-graduate studies at the University of Helsinki after getting a Doctor of Law from the University of Lapland. He has received prestigious Sasakawa Young Leaders' Fellowship at the University of Helsinki. In 2010, he was appointed as a visiting Professor at the School of Law of the Harbin Institute of Technology in China. Dr. Hossain has extensively published in the field of international law, international environmental law as well as in the field of human rights law with particular focus on indigenous peoples. He may be contacted at kamrul.hossain@ulapland.fi

Hyunsoo Kim is Professor of International Law at Inha University School of Law, Korea. Dr. Kim's major research field is the law of the sea. He is particularly interested in maritime boundaries, sovereignty over islands and settlement of maritime disputes. Professor Kim is an editor of the Journal of East Asia and International Law and also works for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Korea Coast Guard as a legal advisor and delegation to diplomatic negotiations. In addition, he serves as Vice President of the Korea Institute of Maritime Law, Vice President of the Hydrographic Society of Korea, governing board member of the Korean Society of International Law, and Member of the National Geographic Naming Committee. Dr. Kim has published 14 books and 70 articles including Legal Issues of the 1992 Chinese Territorial Sea Law in the Light of UN Convention, 43 INT'L COMP. L. Q. 894-904 (1994). He may be contacted at: kimhsoo@inha.ac.kr

Yun Zhao is currently Associate Professor at the University of Hong Kong Faculty of Law. He studied at the China University of Political Science and Law in Beijing, Leiden University(LL.M.) and Erasmus University Rotterdam(Dr. iur.), The Netherlands. Dr. Zhao is the Arbitrator of the Hong Kong International Arbitration Center and Guangzhou Arbitration Commission, Arbitrator of Lehman-Brothers-related Investment Products Dispute Mediation and Arbitration Scheme, Panelist of the Asian Domain Name Dispute Resolution Center and of the Online Dispute Resolution Center of the CIETAC in Beijing. He was the winner of the Prof. Dr. I.H.Ph. Diederiks-Verschoor Award by the International Institute of Space Law, The Netherlands and the SATA Prize by the Foundation of Development of International Law in Asia. His publications include DISPUTE RESOLUTION IN ELECTRONIC COMMERCE (Martinus Nijhoff, 2005), LIBERALIZATION OF ELECTRONIC COMMERCE AND LAW (Peking University Press, 2005), SPACE COMMERCIALIZATION AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF SPACE LAW (Intellectual Property Press, 2008). He may be contacted at zhaoy@hku.hk

Seong-Phil Hong is Associate Professor of International Law and Human Rights at Yonsei University School of Law, Seoul, Korea. He received LL.B. /M.L. from Seoul National University and LL.M./J.S.D. from Yale Law School. He served as a member of the Presidential Planning Committee and the Chair of the advisory board on the human rights of the Ministry of Justice, Korea. He now serves as the Korean member of the Asian Council of Jurists under the APF and as the enlisted conciliator in the ICSID. He has been widely writing on the human rights issues, including war responsibilities, North Korean human rights and the possible modes of human rights mechanism in Asia. Dr. Hong is also an expert of international investment law. He may be contacted at: hsphil@gmail.com

Koji Teraya is Professor of International Law at the University of Tokyo, Japan. His main interest is theory of international law, international human rights law and international humanitarian law. His representative works include Kokusai Jinken no Itudatsu Fukanōsei (Non-derogability of International Human Rights) (in Japanese, Tokyo, Yūhikaku, 2003 [The winner of the 37th ADACHI Mineichirō Award]), Emerging Hierarchy in International Human Rights and Beyond: From the Perspective of Non-Derogable Rights, 12(5) EUROPEAN J. INT'L L. (2001) and For the Rights of "Nobodies": the Globalizing Tension between Human Rights and Democracy, 5 VICTORIA UNIV. WELLINGTON L. REV. (2006).

Kelly Kuan Shang is doing her doctoral research titled, "Export Barriers: Present and Future" under the supervision of Professor P.L.H. Van den Bossche in the Maastricht University Faculty of Law. She holds a J.D. from the University of Hong Kong (St. John's College) (2012), a LL.B and a B.A (English Language and Literature) from China University of Political Science and Law (2010). She has also passed the Chinese bar (2012). Kelly speaks Chinese, English and Korean. She is also qualified as a NAATI Accredited Professional Translator (English to/from Chinese) in Australia. She can be contacted at: kelly.shang@maastrichtuniversity.nl