

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Mahdev Mohan is an Assistant Professor of Law at the Singapore Management University School of Law where he teaches 'Public International Law' and 'Law & Regulation.' He directs SMU's Asian Business & Rule of Law initiative. Professor Mohan is the Executive Director of the Society of International Law Singapore. Mahdev studied law at the National University of Singapore and Stanford University, and was awarded LL.B. and JSM, respectively.

His research is focused on international law, investment arbitration and human rights in Asia. Mahdev is an Associate Tenant of Temple Garden Chambers within its public international law practice group. He is an international civil party lawyer at the UN-backed Khmer Rouge Tribunal. He may be contacted at: mahdevm@smu.edu.sg

Mariko Shoji is a Professor at School of International Studies at Keiai University where she specializes in international organization, law and politics. She is an Executive Board Member of the Japan Association of Global Governance from 2011. Professor Shoji was an Executive Board Member (2004-10) and Chief Editor (2009-10) of the Japan Association for United Nations Studies (JAUNS). She presided a workshop conducted with the United Nations Global Compact Office titled "the United Nations Global Compact Business and Peace Workshop: Business' Contribution to Peace and Development through Multi-stakeholder Collaboration" in 2010. Since 2011, Mariko has been serving as a member of the expert meeting of "Business for Peace" of the UN Global Compact. She may be contacted at: stmari@u-keiai.ac.jp.

Jun Zhao is a Professor at Zhejiang University Guanghua Law School. He currently serves as the head of the Research Institute of International law at Zhejiang University. His research interests include international economic law and public international law. As a graduate of Zhejiang University (LL.B.), he earned his J.D. and LL.M. at Cornell and Harvard Law School, respectively.

Before joining Guanghua Law School, Jun was a visiting scholar at Harvard Center for East Asian Legal Studies. He has also practiced law at two leading law firms. Jun has published research articles at top journals such as Social Sciences in China, Chinese Journal of International Law, University of Pennsylvania Journal of International Law, and Human Rights Quarterly. Professor Zhao is a Director of the Chinese Society of International Law. He also serves as the Vice President of International Law Section of the Law Society of Zhejiang Province. He may be contacted at: junzhao@zju.edu.cn

An CHEN is Senior Professor of Xiamen University School of Law, China. He was Chairman of the Chinese Society of International Economic Law (“CSIEL”) from 1993 to 2011 (Honorable Chairman from 2012 to present) and International Arbitrator, selected and designated by the Chinese government to the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (“ICSID”) under the Washington Convention since 1993. Born in 1929, Professor CHEN began studying law at Xiamen University in 1946 and resumed his research of international economic law at Harvard Law School under the invitation of Professor Jerome Cohen, when China opened up to the world. Professor CHEN is one of the founders of international economic law in the new China. He published the series of works titled, AN CHEN ON INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC LAW. He is also practicing in international business and transnational corporations, as well as an arbitrator of the ICC, IAI and RIA. He may be contacted: chenan@xmu.edu.cn

Fan Yang is currently a Ph.D. candidate in international economic law at Xiamen University (China). Fan studied communication engineering at Sun Yat-sen University and then law at the China University of Political Science and Law (“CUPL”) for his Juris Master. He was also awarded LL.M. from Hamburg University (Germany), co-sponsor of CUPL for the China-EU School of Law. He is interested in the sovereignty theory, and the new development of international economic law at the digital age. He may be contacted at: onosefan@gmail.com

Abdul Ghafur Hamid @ Khin Maung Sein is a Professor of Law and Coordinator of International Law and Maritime Affairs Research Unit of the International Islamic University Malaysia (“IIUM”). He obtained his LL.B. and LL.M. in International Law from the University of Yangon, Myanmar, and Ph.D. from IIUM. His research focuses on international law of the sea, armed conflict, law of international institutions, and international human rights and humanitarian law. With nearly 40 years of teaching and research experience, he has authored and edited 17 books and published numerous articles in international and refereed journals. Professor Ghafur is a member of the Maritime Institute of Malaysia, the Asian Society of International Law, and the Editor of the IIUM Law Journal. He may be contacted at: ghafur.hamid@gmail.com

Hyoungjin Moon is a Professor of Chinese Studies at the Dongduk Women’s University, Korea. He received Ph.D. from the Minzu University of China. He is serving as an editor at the International Association of Korean Historical Studies, member of editing committee of the Association of Korean Abroad, and guest researcher of the Korea Culture Research Institute at the Minzu University. His research papers include: “The Influence of the Great Ming Code on the Joseon society (Doctorate dissertation)” and “King Sejong’s Engagement Policies toward Japan and an Increase in Crimes” (2005). He may be contacted at: subugwi@hanmail.net

Jongho Nam is a Senior Reseacher in Chinese Institute at Center of International Area Studies at Hankuk University of Foreign Studies. He went to the Hankuk University of Foreign Studies (B.A.), National Taiwan University (M.A.) and Peking University (Ph.D. in International Relations). He is interested in Chinese foreign policy. One of his eminent publications is titled “A Study of the Essential Properties of China’s Foreign Negotiation Actions” (2012). He may be contacted at: leopard3@hanmail.net

Tianbao Qin is a LuoJia Professor of Law at Wuhan University and Director of the Research Institute of Environmental Law. Currently, he is the Associate Dean for the School of Law at Wuhan University. Dr. Qins has the memberships for the major environmental law organizations such as the Chinese Society of Environment and Resources Law (Secretary-General), IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law, and the Committee on the Legal Principles relating to Climate Change of the International Law Association. He is an advisor of the Chinese Delegation on biodiversity and climate change issues. Professor Qin has published many books and articles on environmental protection including Research Handbook on Chinese Environmental Law (Edward Elgar, 2015), Introduction to International Law on Biodiversity Conservation (Angle Publishing, 2010), etc. He may be contacted at: fxqtb@whu.edu.cn

Areej Torla is an Assistant Professor at International Islamic University Malaysia (“IIUM”). She was awarded LL.B. (Hons) and MCL from the International Islamic University Malaysia (“IIUM”) and then obtained Ph.D. in Law from Brunel University, UK. Areej specializes in international law of the sea. She has co-authored an edited book on the Malaysian legal system, and is currently teaching courses on land law and the legal system. Prior to joining IIUM, Dr. Torla worked as a federal counsel at the International Affairs Division of the Attorney-General’s Chambers, Malaysia. She can be contacted at: areej@iium.edu.my

Mohd Hisham Mohd Kamal is an Associate Professor at the Ahmad Ibrahim Kulliyah of Laws, International Islamic University Malaysia. He was awarded LL.B (Hon./Shariah) and Ph.D. from IIUM and LL.M. from Hull University. He has written on various aspects of Islamic international law, Islamic legal system and public international law. His publications include Meaning and Method of Interpretation of Sunnah in the Field of Siyar: A

Reappraisal, in ISLAM AND INTERNATIONAL LAW: ENGAGING SELF-CENTRISM FROM A PLURALITY OF PERSPECTIVES (Martinus Nijhoff, 2013); Terrorism, Jihad and Human Rights in Islam, in HUMAN RIGHTS LAW: INTERNATIONAL, MALAYSIAN AND ISLAMIC PERSPECTIVES (Sweet & Maxwell Asia, 2012); and Islamic Law on Protection and Assistance of Civilians Affected by Armed Conflicts and Natural Disasters, Methods and Means of Warfare, and Treatment of Prisoners of War, 4 ASIA-PACIFIC YEARBOOK OF INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW 245-61 (2008-2011). He may be contacted at salma@upnm.edu.my

Salma Yusof is senior lecturer at the National Defence University of Malaysia. She obtained her LL.B., LL.M. and Ph.D. in Law from IIUM. Her research interests focus on international law of the sea, public international law and armed conflict. She may be contacted at: salma@upnm.edu.my

Ida Bagus Rahmadi Supancana (Doddy) is a Professor of International Law at the Catholic University of Atma Jaya in Jakarta, Indonesia. He is also Chairman/Founder of Center for Regulatory Research and Vice Chairman of Advisory Board of the Indonesian Air Law Society. He obtained Ph.D. in International Law (Outer Space Law) from Leiden University, The Netherlands (1998). He has played an active role in preparing and formulating the Academic Draft and National Indonesian Space Act of 2013. His research interests cover air and space law, law of the sea, foreign direct investment law, settlement of dispute, cyber law, international business transaction and regulatory reform. Professor Supancana is also a consultant for some international organizations, donor countries and governmental agencies. He often represents the government in some multilateral and bilateral negotiation and events. He is an editor for leading international and domestic academic reviews such as Journal of East Asia and International Law, Asia Mediation Journal, and Lex Mercatoria, Rechtvindings. He may be contacted at: supancana@yahoo.com

Shuvra Dey is currently pursuing LL.M. at South Asian University, New Delhi, India. He was also awarded LL.M. from University of Rajshahi, Bangladesh. He has completed his LL.B. from Stamford University, Bangladesh and a PG Diploma on Intellectual Property Law from Indian Society of International Law. Shuvra has worked as a research intern at the Asian-African Legal Consultative Organization in 2014. He is interested in public international law, international criminal law, international trade and investment law. He may be contacted at: dshuvro15@yahoo.com