

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Yong Wang is Professor of International Law at East China University of Political Science and Law (“ECUPL”), China. He obtained LL.B., LL.M, and Ph.D. (International Law) from ECUPL. Afterwards, he completed post-doctoral study at Fudan University. Dr. Wang was nominated as ‘Shuguang Scholar’ by Shanghai Education Development Foundation and Shanghai Municipal Education Commission. His research focuses on Public International Law and Law of Treaties. Professor Wang has published many books and papers on those subjects. He may be contacted at: yongyongsh@163.com

Sheer Abbas is currently working as a Public Prosecutor in Rawalpindi at Prosecution Department Lahore, Pakistan. Dr. Abbas received his LL.B. from Punjab University of Pakistan and LL.M. (International Human Right Law) from the Federal Urdu U. of Science & Tech. and earned Ph.D. (International Space Law) from the School of Law, Beijing Institute of Technology. He has also done B.Sc. Hons. Agri. Extension and M.Sc. Hons. Agri. Extension. Dr. Abbas has published over 12 academic papers on international space law and criminal law in various renowned international journals. He may be contacted at: sheer\_prosecutor@yahoo.com

Luping Zhang is a Ph.D. candidate in King’s College London and a New York Bar admitted attorney. She has held visiting lectureships in Leiden University and King’s College London. Previously, she obtained her LL.B. from Jinan University, LL.M. from NYU School of Law, and Advanced LL.M. from Leiden University. She has worked in a New York corporate law firm and two United Nations agencies (UNCTAD and ICAO). Her research areas include international law as well as air and space law. She has given numerous talks in European Space Agency, UNSW, Cambridge, Leiden and Luxembourg. In addition, Luping has published in leading air law journals such as Air and Space Law and ZLW.

Chaohan Zhang is currently an associate professor in Northwestern University of Political Science and Law, deputy director of Bin Cheng Air and Space Law Research Center, researcher of International Law Research Center and “Chang-an Youth Scholar/Professor.” He has obtained his Ph.D. in law from Jilin University and also a post-doc from Shanghai Jiao Tong University. He is the executive editor of China Aviation Law Review, member of China International Law Association, China International Private Law Association and China Aviation Law Association. His research areas include international private law and international air law. Dr. Zhang has conducted research and taught in Seoul National University in Korea, International Civil Aviation Organization as well as Montreal University in Canada.

Deyi Ma is Professor of Law at the East China University of Political Science and Law (ECUPL) in China. Professor Ma holds LL.D. and LL.M. from Dalian Maritime University, China. Dr. Ma has more than ten year’s research experience working on maritime and shipping laws. From 2010 to 2012, he worked as a postdoctoral researcher at the Chinese Academy of Social Science (CASS) in Beijing. Professor Ma was nominated as “Distinguished Young Jurist” by Liaoning Provincial Political and Legal Committee in 2014. He has published extensively in Chinese leading journals and several books about maritime laws and the international law of the sea. He may be contacted at: madeyi9@aliyun.com

Young Yoon Park is an attorney-at-law (Korean Bar) practicing at Yulchon LLC in Seoul, Korea. He received LL.M. from King’s College London (2019) and J.D. from Yonsei Law School (magna cum laude, 2013). Young Yoon also studied economics at Seoul National University where he got Bachelor’s and Master’s degrees in that field. Before practicing law, he was involved in M&A advisory and tax consultation services as a qualified accountant in Deloitte Korea and PwC Korea. His legal practice focuses on litigation related to securities law and company law. Young Yoon’s main academic interest includes international and comparative analysis on finance regulation. He may be contacted at: yypark@yulchon.com

Kotaro Shiojiri is a PhD candidate at the Graduate School of Public Policy of the University of Tokyo. He earned his LL.B. (summa cum laude) and M.A. in International Studies from the University of Tokyo, and his LL.M. from Harvard Law School. He passed the NY State Bar Exam in 2013. He served for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) of Japan for about 10 years (2009-2019).

During his service at MOFA, he served in various fields including the Embassy of Japan in the United States of America as the Chief of Staff to the Ambassador. He is the recipient of the University of Tokyo President's Award. He may be contacted at: kotaroshiojiriuniversity@gmail.com

Soojin Nam is an Assistant Professor at Hankuk University of Foreign Studies in Seoul, Korea. Her research interests include international and comparative law. At Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, she currently teaches public international law, international sales law and comparative antitrust/competition law. Prior to joining the faculty of Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Soojin practiced at large law firms in New York and Seoul, advising multinational clients mostly on antitrust and competition-related matters in high-tech markets. Soojin holds an A.B. (magna cum laude) in Social Studies from Harvard College, an MA in European Affairs from Institut des Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po) and a J.D. from Harvard Law School.

Soojin holds an A.B. (magna cum laude) in Social Studies from Harvard College, an MA in European Affairs from Institut des Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po) and a J.D. from Harvard Law School.

Eric Yong Joong Lee is the President of YIJUN Institute of International Law as well as Professor of International Law at Dongguk University, Seoul, Korea. He is also a High and Foreign Expert of State One Thousand Talent Plan of China teaching and researching at Shanghai University of International Business and Economics. Dr. Lee obtained his A.B. (political science) and M.P.A. (public policy) from the University of Washington and Seoul National University, respectively. Then, he continued to study international law at Leiden University for LL.M. and completed his Dr.iur. in that field under the supervision of Professor Peter Malanczuk at Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Professor Lee, an analyst of international law based on international relations, is an expert of international organization, international dispute settlement, and inter-Korean relations. His current research focus is on Central Asia and Eurasian Initiative. He may be contacted at: grotian@hotmail.com

Seoul National University, respectively. Then, he continued to study international law at Leiden University for LL.M. and completed his Dr.iur. in that field under the supervision of Professor Peter Malanczuk at Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Professor Lee, an analyst of international law based on international relations, is an expert of international organization, international dispute settlement, and inter-Korean relations. His current research focus is on Central Asia and Eurasian Initiative. He may be contacted at: grotian@hotmail.com

Efendi L. Simanjuntak is a doctoral student at Diponegoro University, Semarang, Indonesia. He obtained LL.M. from the University of Indonesia and LL.B. from Bandung Law School, Indonesia. As a practitioner and international business legal advisor, Efendi has obtained a license and certification in the form of a bankruptcy license from the Ministry of Law and Human Rights of the Republic of Indonesia in August 2017, Registered Counselor from the Indonesian Advocates Association/PERADI in August 1999, and Tax and Customs Licenses from the Ministry Finance of the Republic of Indonesia. His main research focuses on international business law and law enforcement, and transnational crime. He has published several articles and books about special crimes, cross-border law enforcement and inter-jurisdiction law enforcement. The author may be contacted at: eldanalegal@gmail.com

Yuris Tri Naili is a doctoral student at Sultan Agung Islam University, Semarang. She obtained LL.B. and LL.M. from Gajahmada University, Yogyakarta, Indonesia. Yuris is a permanent law lecturer at Harapan Bangsa University, Purwokerto, Indonesia. Her research interest is health law. She can be contacted at: yuris0774@gmail.com

FX Adji Samekto is Professor at Faculty of Law, Diponegoro University, Semarang, Indonesia. He earned LL.B. from Diponegoro University, Semarang Indonesia, LL.M. from Padjajatan University, West Java Indonesia, Doctoral Degree in Law from Diponegoro University, Semarang Indonesia. Now he serves as the chairman of the Doctoral Program at Diponegoro University. His research areas include environmental law, law enforcement, legal education, sustainable development, legal history, and business law. He can be contacted at: samektoadjifx@gmail.com

Farahdilah Ghazali is a lecturer at University Malaysia Terengganu (UMT), where she affiliates to Institute of Oceanography and Environment (INOS). Her research interest is natural resources law, conservation and biodiversity, sustainable development especially with respect to renewable energy and climate change. She also works on topics such as marine renewable energy legal framework and laws pertaining to nuclear energy development. She received her Bachelor of Legal Studies (Hons.) from University Technology MARA, Malaysia and her Master of Comparative Laws from International Islamic University Malaysia. In 2018, she was awarded a doctoral degree in Law at International Islamic University Malaysia. She may be contacted at: farahdilah.g@umt.edu.my

Muhammad Ashraf Abdul Rahman is a research officer at the Institute of Oceanography and Environment, Universiti Malaysia Terengganu. He has completed his Ph.D. in Environmental Technology and Management on transboundary marine protected areas and legal protection on marine endangered species. He has a bachelor degree in Applied Science (Fisheries), completed his Masters of Science (Aquaculture) in 2013, before embarking his doctoral study into governance, which bridges the science into policy. His scholarly articles and book chapter publications revolve around marine endangered species, marine protected areas and environmental laws and policies. He can be contacted at: ashraf_umt13@yahoo.com

Mohd Hazmi Mohd Rusli is an Associate Professor at the Faculty of Syariah and Law, Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM). He obtained Ph.D. from the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security (ANCORS), University of Wollongong, Australia. As a member of the Malaysian BAR since 2007, he has been invited as keynote and plenary speakers in conferences all over the world including the US, China, Indonesia, Russia, Malaysia and the Philippines. He has published numerous articles published in SCOPUS/ISI-indexed journals as well as renowned magazines/newspapers such as Forbes, Asia Times, New Straits Times, The Jakarta Post and the RSIS Commentaries. He is currently an honorary Lieutenant Commander of the Royal Malaysian Navy Volunteer Reserve Team, a recognition to his contribution in the field of international law of the sea. He can be contacted at hazmirusli@usim.edu.my

Wan Izatul Asma Wan Talaat is a Law Professor as well as a qualified advocate & solicitor from the High Court of Malaya, apart from holding a Masters and a Ph.D. in Law. Her research projects are mainly in the governance of marine and coastal environment. She is currently heading the Ocean Governance Research Programme at the Institute of Oceanography and

Environment (INOS). She has been appointed to the IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law and is also a member of the Environmental Law Network International (ELNI) and the UN Sustainable Development Social Network (SDSN). Nationally, she serves as a resource person to various ministries and agencies in environmental and natural resources laws and currently heads the National Technical Working Committee on seabed and deep seabed mining legal framework. She can be contacted at: wia@umt.edu.my