

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Hyun Soo Kim is a Professor of International Law at Inha University School of Law, Korea. Dr. Kim's major research field is the law of the sea. In particular, he is interested in maritime boundaries, sovereignty over islands, settlement of maritime disputes and continental shelf issues. Professor Kim has been working for the Korean government including the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Ministry of Oceans and Fisheries, and the Korea Coast Guard as a legal and policy advisor and delegation to diplomatic negotiations regarding ocean matters. He is also a member of ABLOS and the International Hydrographic Organization (IHO). Dr. Kim obtained his Ph.D. degree at the University of Wales, UK. He may be contacted at: kimhsoo@inha.ac.kr.

Jiajia Wang is an Associate Professor of Wuhan University China Institute of Boundary and Ocean Studies. Dr. Wang's main research fields are China-South Korea relations, marine policy, and South Korean maritime issues. She graduated from Dalian University of Foreign Languages with a bachelor's degree in Korean Language and Culture, and obtained Ph.D. degree in political science from Incheon National University. Dr. Wang completed her postdoctoral study at Wuhan University School of Law, China. She is a visiting scholar at Sungkyunkwan University in Korea from September 2021 to September 2022. She may be contacted at: jiajia820615@hotmail.com.

Shuping Li is a Ph.D. candidate in law at the University of Hong Kong. Her research areas include international investment law, financial law and economic analysis of law, with a special interest in the regulation of Fintech and financial markets. She obtained her LL.M. from the University of Cambridge in commercial law as a Cambridge Trust scholar and LL.B. from Shandong University. Previously she worked as a research intern at the Cambridge Centre for Alternative Finance for regulatory innovation programs. She is qualified to practice law in China as well as a certified written English translator. She may be contacted at: sl944@connect.hku.hk.

Wei Shen is KoGuan Distinguished Professor of Law at Shanghai Jiaotong University Law School. Professor Shen got Ph.D. (LSE), LL.M. (Cantab), LL.M. (U. Michigan), and LL.M. & LL.B. (ECUPL). He joined the New York Bar and was practicing law for a decade, mostly in Hong Kong on foreign direct investment, private equity and M&A. His main research interests include financial regulation, corporate governance, international investment law and commercial arbitration. He has published more than 200 articles in Chinese and English journals. Professor Shen has authored many books including Chinese Business Law and edited book, Private Law in China and Taiwan-A Law and Economics Approach (2016). His article was cited by the Supreme Court of Singapore. He is an arbitrator with London Court of International Arbitration, Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre, Singapore International Arbitration Centre, Korean Commercial Arbitration Board (International), among others. He may be contacted at: shenwei@sjtu.edu.cn.

Zuraini Ab. Hamid is a lecturer at International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). She was awarded LL.B.(Hons), MCL, and Ph.D. in Law from IIUM. She is the author of Criminal Advocacy: A Student's Guide (2020), Human Trafficking in Malaysia (2017) and Anti-Human Trafficking Laws in Malaysia (2017), and numerous articles published in national and international journals. She is actively involved in research related to human trafficking and criminal law. From 2019 to 2021, she is recognized as one of IIUM's top researchers and a subject matter expert and qualified expert witness for human trafficking by the US Department of Justice. Dr. Hamid was formerly a Deputy Public Prosecutor at the Attorney General Chambers of Malaysia, Deputy Director of Harun M. Hashim Law Centre, Coordinator of AIKOL Postgraduate, and AIKOL ICT Coordinator. She may be contacted at: zurainihamid@iium.edu.my.

Nasser Khodaparast is currently an attorney (member of Iranian Central Bar Association) and legal advisor at National Iranian Oil Company (NIOC). He teaches at universities in Iran. Dr. khodaparast received his LL.B. from Qom University (Iran) and LL.M (International Law) and Ph.D. (Oil & Gas Law) from the University of Tehran. Dr. Khodaparast has published books and papers on international and energy law in domestic and international journals. His areas of expertise are oil and gas law, international sustainable development law, energy security, international economic sanctions and international trade law. He may be contacted at: N.Khodaparast@nioc.ir.

Chandaphan Suwijak is a Ph.D. candidate in International Space Law at Beijing Institute of Technology (BIT). He obtained LL.B. from Mae Fah Luang University and LL.M. from Chulalongkorn University, Thailand. After graduation, he began working as a Law Lecturer at Mae Fah Luang University School of Law. In 2016, he was awarded a scholarship by the Chinese Scholarship Council (CSC) for doctoral research project at the Beijing Institute of Technology, China. Since early 2021, he has been appointed by the Geo-Informatics and Space Technology Development Agency: GISTDA, as a member of the National Working Group Committee on Coordination and Determination of the Roles of Thailand related to the United Nations Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space (UNCOPUOS). He may be contacted at: suwijak.cha@mfu.ac.th.

Ali Hussein Aldosari is an Assistant Professor of International Law at Kuwait University Faculty of Law. He completed his LL.B. at Kuwait University and LL.M. and Ph.D. at Bremen University, Germany. His Ph.D. thesis focuses on the International Monitoring of Presidential Elections in Turkey, Egypt, and Ivory Coast through the United Nations. Dr. Aldosari worked at the Kuwait State Audit Bureau before taking up his present position at Kuwait University, and currently is also the Secretary-General of the Training Centre at the Kuwait Jurist Association. Professor Aldosari has participated in a number of international conferences and published research papers in the fields of human rights, anti-terrorism law and international administrative law. He may be contacted at: lawyer_karate@hotmail.com.

Eric Yong Joong Lee is the President of YIJUN Institute of International Law as well as Professor of International Law at Dongguk University, Seoul, Korea. He is also a High and Foreign Expert of State (PRC) One Thousand Talent Program teaching and researching at Shanghai University of International Business and Economics. From May 2022, he is serving as the Editor of Springer's Book Series <International Law in Asia>. Dr. Lee obtained his A.B. (political science) and M.P.A. (public policy) from the University of Washington and Seoul National University, respectively. Then, he continued to study international law at Leiden University for LL.M. and completed his Dr.iur. under the supervision of Professor Peter Malanczuk at Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Professor Lee, an analyst of international law based on international relations, is an expert of international organization, international dispute settlement, and inter-Korean relations. He may be contacted at: grotian@hotmail.com.

Aidir Amin Daud was awarded Doctor in Law from Hasanuddin University in 2004. He is a senior lecturer at Faculty of Law, Hasanuddin University in Makassar, Indonesia. His main interests are Public International Law, International Law of the Sea and International Organization Law. His current focus is on maritime crimes. Dr. Aidir Amin Daud is a member of Indonesian Society of International Law Lecturers (ISILL). He may be contacted at: aidirad@icloud.com.

Marthen Napang is Professor of Law at Hasanuddin. University, Indonesia. He is interested in Public International Law, Law of the Sea, Law of Treaty and Humanitarian Law. He received Doctor in Law from Hasanuddin University in 2011. His current research focuses on the law of internationally organized crime, including transboundary international crime. Professor Marthen Napang served as a member of Expert Council of Indonesian Society of International Law Lecturers (ISILL).

Marcel Hendrapati is a Professor (emeritus) at Law Faculty, Hasanuddin. University, Indonesia. He teaches Public International Law, Law of the Sea and Law of Treaty. He received Doctor in Law from Hasanuddin University in 2013. His current research focuses on international law of the sea. Professor Hendrapati served as a member of Expert Council of Indonesian Society of International Law Lecturers (ISILL). He may be contacted at: mhendrapati@yahoo.com.

Christina Jones-Pauly earned Ph.D.(Comparative Law) at the University of London (SOAS) and a Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School. She was awarded the Rita E. Hauser Human Rights Fellowship at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study of Harvard University. Dr. Jones-Pauly has also been named Islamic Law Research Scholar at Harvard Law School. She was Associate Law Professor (Wiss. Mitarbeit) at the University of Bayreuth and the University of Bonn in Germany. She also served as team leader of the Danish Institute for Human Rights in the Denmark-Myanmar Programme for Human Rights at the Law Faculties of Dagon University and University of East Yangon, Myanmar. Christina has a long-standing research interest in the renewal and adaptation of Islamic laws and local customs affecting property rights, gender interaction, human rights, and procedural aspects of adjudication. One of her notable publications is: Women under Islam: Gender, Justice and the Politics of Islamic Law in Tunisia, Egypt, South Africa and Pakistan (London: Bloomsbury/IB Tauris, 2011). She may be contacted at: cj212@gmx.net.

Myint Zan obtained a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws degrees from Rangoon University, Burma, and Master of Laws from the University of Michigan as well as Australian National University. He was awarded Ph.D. from Griffith University in Australia. From 1989 to 2016 he taught law and law-related subjects in various universities in Malaysia, Australia, the South Pacific and the United States. He has published over 90 academic articles and book chapters mainly on Burmese law, legal history, Asian law, international law, comparative law and human rights law as well as a few essays on literature and philosophy in the journals published in Australia, India, Italy, Malaysia, New Zealand, Singapore, the United Kingdom, the United States and Vanuatu. He can be contacted at: myintzan@yahoo.com.au.

Gang Tang is currently a Ph.D. candidate in Wuhan University Institute of International Law, China. He received his Bachelor degree in Foreign Language and Literature and LL.B. from Wuhan University of Science and Technology. He received an LL.M. in International Law from Kunming University of Science and Technology. His research interests include international law and the law of the sea. He has published over 20 research articles in International Journal of Marine and Coastal Law (the second author), Chinese Journal of Maritime Law, Legal Education Research, Zhejiang University Law Review, Shanghai Maritime University Law Review, etc. He may be contacted at: tanggap998@126.com.