

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Deymah Alweqyan is an Associate Professor of International Law at Kuwait University School of Law. She received her Ph.D. from Penn State Law University. She was selected as a legal advisor for the Kuwaiti Minister of Oil, Minister of Commerce, and Minister of Communication. She held a position of legal researcher in Kuwait National Assembly. Dr. Alweqyan is an Arbitrator in Kuwait Chamber of Commerce. Her research areas include Human Rights Law, International Criminal Law, Environmental Law, and International Organizations. She is also a member of Kuwait Crescent Society—a branch of Red Cross. She may be contacted at: dr.dema.alwugyan@gmail.com.

Boris Kondoch is currently a Professor at Far East University in South Korea and Editor of the JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING published by Brill. Professor Kondoch's main research interests are the international law of military operations, peacekeeping, international criminal law, human rights and Northeast Asian relations. His publications include among others, North Korea, in OXFORD HANDBOOK OF THE RESPONSIBILITY TO PROTECT (A.J. Bellamy, T. Dunne eds, 2016); The Responsibility of Peacekeepers, Their Sending States, and International Organizations (co-author: M. Zwanenburg), in THE HANDBOOK OF INTERNATIONAL LAW OF MILITARY OPERATIONS (2016); Peacekeeping and the Asia-Pacific (co-editor: Brendan Howe) and Sanctions in International Law, in OXFORD BIBLIOGRAPHIES (2016). His current research focuses on the comfort women issue and the North Korean sanctions regime.

Soojin Nam is an Assistant Professor at Hankuk University of Foreign Studies in Seoul, South Korea. Her research interests include international and comparative law. At Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, she currently teaches public international law, international sales law and comparative antitrust/competition law. Prior to joining the faculty of Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Soojin practiced at large law firms in New York and in Seoul, advising multinational clients mostly on antitrust and competition-related matters in high-tech markets. Soojin holds an AB (Magna Cum Laude) in Social Studies from Harvard College, an MA in European Affairs from Instituts d'Etudes Politiques de Paris ("Sciences Po") and a JD from Harvard Law School.

Shidarta is a faculty member at Jakarta (Indonesia)-based Bina Nusantara. He is also a professor of legal philosophy. His publications include books and articles on philosophy of law, legal reasoning, legal research methods, competition law, and consumer protection law. He was awarded a Master of Law degree from Gadjah Mada University in Yogyakarta and a Doctor of Law degree from Parahyangan Catholic University in Bandung, Indonesia. He was once invited as a guest lecturer at Cheng Shiu University (Taiwan) and Kozminski University (Poland). He is one of the founders of the Indonesian Legal Philosophy Association (AFHI) and the Business Competition Lecturer Forum (FDPU) and chaired both. He can be contacted at: shidarta@binus.edu.

Stijn Cornelis van Huis is a faculty member of Business Law Department at Bina Nusantara University, Jakarta (Indonesia). At this university he teaches international law, private international law, and legal research method. Dr. Van Huis has experienced empirical and desk studies within development projects in Indonesia. He got his Ph.D. in law, MA/Doctorandus (Southeast Asian Studies), and Propaedeutics/Undergraduate Degree (Indonesian) from Leiden University. He can be contacted at: stijn.huis@binus.edu.

Eko Riyadi is a lecturer at the Law Faculty, Islamic University of Indonesia, Yogyakarta (Indonesia). He teaches constitutional law, human rights law, law and society, Islamic law, and legal research method. He got undergraduate and postgraduate law degrees from Islamic University of Indonesia. Now, Riyadi is a Ph.D. candidate at the Law Faculty, the University of Indonesia. He is a board expert of Indonesian Association of Human Rights Law Lecturers and a Director of Human Rights Study Center of Islamic University of Indonesia. One of his books deals with human rights law in the perspective of international, regional and national law. He can be contacted at: eko.riyadi@uii.ac.id.

Chao Wang (Harry) is an associate professor and associate director of Centre for Constitutional and Basic Law Studies at the University of Macau, where he is also a member of the Faculty Executive Committee directing the faculty's international programs. He received Ph.D. in Law, LL.M. and MA (Asia Pacific Policy Studies) from the University of British Columbia (UBC), where he also taught courses as a sessional lecturer at UBC's Allard School of Law. Dr. Wang is an editor of the Chinese Journal of International Law, Asia Pacific Law Review, Journal of Intellectual Property Law & Practice, and Chinese Journal of Comparative Law. Professor Wang serves on the panel of several international arbitral bodies in China, including the Shanghai International Arbitration Center and Shenzhen Court of International Arbitration. He may be contacted at chaowang@um.edu.mo.

V. Selvie Sinaga is an Associate Professor at Faculty of Law-Atma Jaya Catholic University of Indonesia (Jakarta). She earned a bachelor of law (international law) from Gadjah Mada University and master's degree in the Internet and electronic law from Monash University, Australia. She continued her education for a doctoral degree in intellectual property and international law at University of Wollongong, Australia with scholarship. Her research interests are public international law, intellectual property law, and law and development. In 2021, she was selected to receive Fulbright US-ASEAN Visiting Scholar Initiative program to conduct research at the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Law for 3 months. She may be contacted at: valerie.selvie@atmajaya.ac.id.

Vinh Tien Nguyen is an Associate Professor of law at School of Law, Vietnam National University of Hanoi (VNU) where he has been a faculty member since 1997 and Head of International Law Department (2014-19). At present, he is Director of VNU Tran Nhan Tong Institute. He is known as one of the founders of Vietnam International Law Society (VSIL). He graduated from VNU School of Law in 1995, obtained his Master's degree in international law at Université Libre de Bruxelles (Belgium) in 1997. He then received a Ph.D. at Université Paris VII Diderot (France) in 2013. Nguyen's teaching and research interests are mainly International Law, International Trade and Business Law, International Private Law. He is the author or co-author of a dozen books and various journal articles on those topics. He may be contacted at: vinhnt@vnu.edu.vn

Said Tulibayev is currently a Ph.D. candidate at the Faculty of Law and Social Sciences at Suleyman Demirel University, Kazakhstan. He completed his LL.B. (honors) and LL.M. at the Faculty of International Relations of Al-Farabi Kazakh National University, Kazakhstan. His research interests include international environmental law, ecological sustainability issues, national environmental laws and policies in the Central Asian region. His current research focuses on ecocide as an international crime, including the approach to the definition of ecocide in the legislation of Kazakhstan and other countries of Central Asia. He may be contacted at: said.tulibayev@gmail.com.

Muayad Kamal Hattab is an Assistant Professor and the former Dean of the Faculty of Law at An-Najah National University (Nablus). He is the founder of a new Palestinian legal database “MAQAM,” and a member of the Board of Trustees in non-profit human right organization called “Law for Palestine.” His research, practice, and teaching involve Human Rights & Democracy, Contract Law and Employment Law. He received Doctor of Law from Portsmouth University in the UK in 2014. Dr. Hattab was a member of the National Committee for the Development of Justice Sector in Palestine which was formed by a Presidential Ordinance. He published academic legal articles in national and international journals in the field of public international law and private law. He can be contacted at: mhattab@najah.edu.

I Nyoman Prabu Buana Rumiarta is a Lecturer at the Faculty of Law, Udayana University, Bali Indonesia. He graduated from the University of Jember (Doctor of Law) and the German-Southeast Asian Center of Excellence for Public Policy and Good Governance (CPG). He was appointed Dean of the Faculty of Law, University of Bali Dwipa for the 2019-2022 period. He was also a government legal expert in drafting laws and regulations. His research focuses on Constitution and International Human Rights. The author can be contacted at: prabubuana88@gmail.com

Ni Luh Gede Astariyani is a lecturer at Faculty of Law, Udayana University, Bali Indonesia. She completed her education for the doctoral program of law at the Faculty of Law, Udayana University. She is actively involved in research and policy formulation of human rights and local government. She has experience in the field of quality assurance and internal quality audit. She may be contacted at: luh_astariyani@unud.ac.id.

Anak Agung Sagung Ngurah Indradewi is a lecturer at the Faculty of Law, University of Dwijendra, Indonesia and serves as the Dean of the Faculty of Law. She got her doctoral degree from Brawijaya University. Her research focuses on the field of Intellectual Property Rights and International Law. The author may be contacted at: agungindradewi66@gmail.com.

Badar Alam Iqbal is Professor Extraordinaires at the School of Transdisciplinary Research and Graduate Studies of the University of South Africa. He was two times Fulbright Fellow and DAAD Fellow. He is Emeritus Professor for FBIAR (Ghana) & IUBAT (Dhaka). He is also adjunct professor at the Faculty of Economics and Finance of Monarch University (Switzerland). Currently, he serves as the Guest Editor for Scopus indexed journals such as Research in Globalization, Asia and the Global Economy, Future Business Journal, to name a few. His area of research is international business law. He may be contacted at: badar.iqbal@fulbrightmail.org.

Yen-Chiang Chang got his Ph.D. degree from the University of Dundee. He also conducted an internship at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law. In August 2007, he started to work for the Marine Institute, University of Plymouth, UK. In 2009, he took up an associate professorship at the Shanghai Maritime University. In 2010, he joined School of Law, Shandong University and subsequently promoted as a full professor in 2011. In 2018, he started a new journey at School of Law, Dalian Maritime University. In accordance with Elsevier, Professor Chang is the most cited legal scholar in China in years 2020 and 2021. His current research focuses on legal governance framework regarding the exploration of marine renewable energy and dispute settlement mechanism.