

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Jinyup Kim is a Research Fellow at Korea Intellectual Property Protection Agency. His research interest lies in international environmental law and international economic law. Dr. Kim is currently conducting research on international intellectual property law and international investment law. He received his LL.M. from the University of Edinburgh and Ph.D. from the University of Glasgow in the UK. He may be contacted at: kjy3751@gmail.com.

Steel Rometius, whose Chinese name is 罗国强(Luo guoqiang), is a Professor of International Law in Zhejiang University Guanghua Law School, China. He holds the position of a Leading Professor of Humanities and Social Science in Zhejiang University. He majors in International Jurisprudence, the Law of the Sea, International Arbitration Law & International Finance Law. Professor Rometius has published more than 100 articles in English and Chinese and 7 monographs in the above fields, with his representative book named as On the Noumena of International Law. He translated Samuel Pufendorf's De Jure Naturae et Gentium into Chinese, as well. Professor Rometius chaired a major project of the National Social Science Foundation of China and received a National Teaching Achievement Award and an Outstanding Achievement Award of Scientific Research in Colleges and Universities. He may be contacted at: 0021412@zju.edu.cn.

Sri Wartini is an Associate Professor at Universitas Islam Indonesia Faculty of Law. She obtained LL.B. from Gadjah Mada University; LL.M. Padjadjaran University; and Ph.D. from Ahmad Ibrahim Kulliyah of Laws at the International Islamic University Malaysia. Her doctoral research was "Transboundary Movement of Living Modified Organism under the Cartagena Protocol and the SPS Agreement: A Legal Analysis with Special Reference to the Precautionary Principle." Professor Sri Wartini is mainly interested in the International Environmental Law, International Law on Human Rights, and the Law of the Sea. She may be contacted at: sri.wartini@uii.ac.id.

Patrawan Rattanakaset is an Assistant Professor at the University of Phayao. She completed her Doctorate from the Université d'Aix-Marseille III, France. Professor Rattanakaset is a postgraduate director of the Doctor of Law Program and a coordinator of the Master of Law Program at School of Law of the University of Phayao. She has taught several undergraduate and postgraduate courses such as environment law, property law, comparative law on environment and natural resources, and law on specific contracts for many years. Currently, she supervises several postgraduate research students in the field of environmental law. She published over 10 papers in journals and in proceedings of the leading national and international conferences. She is the author of several books and editorial board member and reviewer of many journals. She may be contacted at: patrawan.ra@up.ac.th or airpatra@hotmail.com.

Mohd Hazmi Mohd Rusli is a senior lecturer at the Faculty of Syariah and Law at Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM). He has been appointed as a visiting professor at a number of universities within the Asia-Pacific region such as the Far Eastern Federal University School of Law (Vladivostok, Russia), Xiamen University's South China Sea Institute (China), and the Universitas Brawijaya Faculty of Law (Indonesia). He has been invited as keynote and plenary speaker in conferences all over the world including the United States, Indonesia, Russia, Malaysia and the Philippines. He is also a Lieutenant Commander of the Royal Malaysian Navy Volunteer Reserve Team. His area of interest is law of the sea and public international law. He could be contacted at hazmirusli@usim.edu.my.

Lowell Bautista is Associate Professor at the School of Law and a Staff Member at the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security (ANCORS), University of Wollongong. Dr. Bautista is a scholar of international standing with a recognized reputation for his expertise in the law of the sea, particularly for his contributions in the area of territorial and maritime disputes in the Asia-Pacific, especially the South China Sea. His research expertise primarily involves multi-faceted aspects of international law, law of the sea, ocean governance, maritime security, and comparative law. He holds a B.A. in Political Science (cum laude) degree and an LL.B. from the University of the Philippines, an LL.M. in Marine and Environmental Law from Dalhousie University in Canada, and Ph.D. in law from the University of Wollongong. He may be contacted at: lowell@uow.edu.au.

Nehaluddin Ahmad is currently a Senior Professor of Law at University Islam Sultan Sharif Ali (UNISSA), Brunei Darussalam. He has served as an academician at several academic institutions in India, Tanzania, Malaysia, and Brunei. His main teaching and research interests are constitutional law, international law and politics, law and technology, and comparative law. He holds an LL.D. from Meerut University, India, LL.M. (IT and Telecom.

Law) from the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, UK., and M.A./LL.M./LL.B. from Lucknow University, India. He has practiced law as an advocate at Lucknow Bench of Allahabad High Court, India and worked as a solicitor in Singapore. Professor Ahmad authored books and many refereed academic articles. He may be contacted at: ahmadnehal@yahoo.com.

Gary Lilienthal is a Professor of Law at NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad, India, and Chairman of the Carrington Rand Scholars' collective in Hong Kong SAR. Dr. Lilienthal was a Senior Lecturer in Law at UUM in Malaysia, Associate Professor of Law at Symbiosis Law School in Pune, India, and Professor of Human Rights Law at the University of Gondar in Ethiopia. He holds a Sydney University law degree, a Melbourne master's in psychoanalysis, and a Perth Ph.D. in Law. He may be contacted at: carrington.rand@icloud.com.

Siti Sara Ahmad is an Associate Professor of Applied Linguistics at University Islam Sultan Sharif Ali (UNISSA), Brunei Darussalam. She obtained her Ph.D. from the International Islamic University of Malaysia (IIUM), M.A. from Yarmouk University, Jordan, and B.A. from Al-Azhar University, Egypt. Previously, she served as Dean of Arabic Language as well as Director for the Promotion of Knowledge and Learning

Languages. Currently, she is an Assistant Rector (academic affairs) at the University Islam Sultan Sharif Ali (UNISSA) Brunei Darussalam. She can be contacted at: sara.ahmad@unissa.edu.bn.

Eric Yong Joong Lee is the President of YIJUN Institute of International Law as well as Professor of International Law at Dongguk University, Seoul, Korea. Dr. Lee obtained his A.B. (political science) and M.P.A. (public policy) from the University of Washington and Seoul National University, respectively. Then, he continued to study international law at Leiden University for LL.M. and completed his Dr.iur. (Ph.D. in Law) under the supervision of Professor Peter Malanczuk at Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Professor Lee, an analyst of international law based on international relations, is an expert of international organization, international dispute settlement, and inter-Korean relations. He is serving as the Editor of Springer's Book Series <International Law in Asia>. His current academic interests focus on Cyberspace International Law and Nuclear lawmaking legislation. He may be contacted at: grotian@hotmail.com.

Ramya Ramachanderan is an Attorney and Counselor-at-law admitted to the New York Bar. She is presently a candidate for the LL.M. in European Law at Universiteit Leiden, The Netherlands. Ramya obtained first law degree (LL.B. with honors) from Christ University, India and subsequently obtained a Juris Doctor (JD) and an LL.M. in International Arbitration from the University of Miami. While Ramya's primary areas of interest are international public law and international dispute settlement, a significant portion of her research focuses on the interpretation of international treaties. She may be contacted at: ramya.ramach@gmail.com.

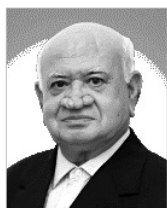

Duong Anh Son is an Associate Professor and Dean of the Faculty of Economic Law at the University of Economics and Law-Vietnam National University of HCMC. He got his Ph.D. in law from Moldova in 2002 and appointed an Associate Professor in 2011. Prof. Son's research interests are in international trade law, tax law and contract law. Professor Son is author and co-author of a dozen articles and books published in both national and international recognized journals and publishers. Dr. Son is also an international arbitrator, working as member of the Vietnam International Arbitration Center (VIAC). He may be contacted at: duonganhson@gmail.com, sonduong@uel.edu.vn

Tran Vang-Phu is a Senior Lecturer at Law School at Can Tho University, Vietnam. He was awarded an LL.M. from Chulalongkorn University, Thailand in 2016 and Ph.D. in law (LL. D.) from the University of Economics and Law-Vietnam National University of Ho Chi Minh City in 2022. As a commercial arbitrator, Dr. Vang-Phu is a Deputy Director of APEC Vietnam International Commercial Arbitration Center. His research interests are Land and Real Estate Law, International Trade Law, Environment Law, Human Rights, and Comparative Law. Professor Vang-Phu is author and co-author of more than 60 research articles and 10 books (in both Vietnamese and English) published in both national and international recognized journals and publishers. He can be contacted at: vangphu@ctu.edu.vn.

Badar Alam Iqbal is Distinguished Expert for African Political Economy Policy Lab at the Africa Centre for Strategy and Policy (AFRICACFSP). He is Former Fulbright Visiting Professor and Scholar in Residence (SIR) in 2004 and 2016. Presently, Dr. Iqbal has been appointed Professor Extraordinaries at College of Graduate Studies of the University of South Africa. He is Adjunct Professor at Faculty of Management Sciences at Vaal University of Technology, South Africa. He is also Extraordinary Professor at Department of Economics at Tshwane University of Technology, South Africa. Professor Iqbal is Editor-in-Chief of Management and Economics Research Journal. He may be contacted at: badar.iqbal@fulbrightmail.org.

Mohd. Nayyer Rahman is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Commerce at Aligarh Muslim University, India. His area of research is International Economics, International Business and Applied Econometrics. He has represented India as a Young Researcher on BRICS Studies for two consecutive years (2018-19) in BRICS International School hosted by Russian Federation under the grant of Gorbochov Foundation. He has also participated in BRICS Forum on Economic Integration under BRICS 2020. His research publications have covered empirical evidences on BRICS studies, causality relationship of macroeconomic variables and Latin American countries, to name a few. He may be contacted at: mnrahman.co@myamu.ac.in.

Juhyun Park is an Assistant Professor at the International Economics and Law Department of Hankuk University of Foreign Studies (HUFS) in Seoul, Korea. Her research interests include international and comparative law, trade law, international dispute resolution and privacy law. She received her JD from Harvard Law School, and her AB in English and American Literature and Language from Harvard College.

Prior to joining the HUFS faculty, she was affiliated with the Global Legal Team at SK hynix, where she advised on global mergers and acquisitions and commercial contract negotiation. She was a Foreign Legal Consultant at Kim & Chang Law Group for eight years as a member of the firm's Antitrust, Arbitration, Privacy and Healthcare Practices. She may be reached at: juhyun.park@hufs.ac.kr.