

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Andrés Bórquez is an Assistant Professor at Institute of International Studies, University of Chile and Head of Master's Degree in Asian Studies. He is Principal Researcher in Nucleus Milenium on the Impacts of China in Latin America. Borquez is a Ph.D. in International Politics at Fudan University and Master in Social Studies at University of Paris 1. His main research areas are China foreign policy to Latin America and Chile foreign policy to Asia Pacific. He may be contacted at: andres.borquez@uchile.cl.

Eduardo A. Carreño is an Associate Professor and Director of Research and Academic Development at Institute of International Studies, University of Chile. Carreño hold a Ph.D. in Political Science at Autonomous University of Madrid (Spain). His main research areas are foreign policy analysis, global public policy, and international cooperation. He may be contacted at: ecarreno@uchile.cl.

Ella Gorian is a Professor at Manipal Law School, Manipal Academy of Higher Education, India. She has over 20 years of academic and industry experience. She studied at Nottingham University School of Law (UK) on a British Foreign Office scholarship and earned her Ph.D. with an Academic Excellence scholarship from the Ukrainian Government. She has taught comparative legal and international courses at National Aviation University (Ukraine), Vladivostok State University (Russia), and Henan University (China). Dr. Gorian is the author of two textbooks on Public International Law and over 90 research papers. She has led three research grants funded by the Russian Government and the Russian Fund of Fundamental Studies. She reviews for journals indexed in Web of Science and SCOPUS and is a member of the Asian Society of International Law. Her research interests include Public International Law, Comparative Legal Studies, Intellectual Property, Cybersecurity, AI and Data Protection. She may be contacted at: ella.gorian@manipal.edu

Avinash Dadhich is the Director of Manipal Law School, Manipal Academy of Higher Education, India. Professor Dadhich has 15 years of academic and industry experience. He holds a Ph.D. from Bangor University, Wales, and an LL.M. from the University of Toulouse 1, France, both on full scholarships, and an LL.B. from the University of Delhi. His career includes roles at the Supreme Court of India, Deloitte India LLP, Ernst & Young (EY) LLP, and the Competition Commission of India. He has been a visiting researcher/faculty at institutions such as King's College London, Max Planck Institute, and the Institute of European Studies. He was an Antitrust Fellow under the US's International Visitor Leadership Programme and completed a Military Leadership Programme with the British Territorial Army. His research interests include Global Competition Law, AI and Robotics Regulation, and Data Privacy. He may be contacted at: avinash.dadhich@manipal.edu.

Asif Kamal is a Ph.D. student of Zhejiang University Guanghua Law School, majoring Chinese Law. He obtained his Master's degree in Environmental Law from Ocean University of China. He also accomplished his B.S. (Political Science) and M.A. (History) from the University of Science and Technology Bannu/Pakhtunkwa, Pakistan. His research area is environmental law and international law.

Deymah Alweqyan is an Associate Professor of International Law at Kuwait University School of Law. She received her Ph.D. from Penn State Law University. She was selected as a legal advisor for the Kuwaiti Minister of Oil, Minister of Commerce, and Minister of Communication. She held a position of legal researcher in Kuwait National Assembly. Dr. Alweqyan is an Arbitrator in Kuwait Chamber of Commerce. Her research areas include Human Rights Law, International Criminal Law, Environmental Law, and International Organizations. She is also a member of Kuwait Crescent Society - a branch of Red Cross. She may be contacted at: dr.dema.alwugyan@gmail.com.

Minh Hoang Dang is a law lecturer at FPT University, Vietnam. He holds an LL.M. in International Business Law from Newcastle University, UK. As a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Economics and Law, Vietnam, his research centers on law and gender within the Vietnamese employment framework. Dang has made a significant contribution to Vietnamese legal scholarship, especially with his involvement in a project titled, “Toward the Vietnamese Feminist Judgement,” a pioneering publication introducing the importance of feminist legal theory in Vietnam. His work emphasizes the application of this theory in Vietnamese legal practices to advocate for women’s rights. He may be contacted at: minhdh22710@sdh.uel.edu.vn.

Doan Thi Phuong Diep is an Associate Professor at the University of Economics and Law, VNUHCM. She got a Ph.D. in Law from the University of Bordeaux 4, France. Dr. Diep has published articles in national and international academic journals and authored several books including “Legislation on Property Relations between Husband and Wife” published by VNUHCM Press, “La Légistique Perspectives Francophones” published by Press de l’université de Toulouse 1 in France, and “How Civil Law is Taught in Asian Universities” published by Keiglad Publishing. She may be contacted at: diepntp@uel.edu.vn.

Ye Liu is an Ph.D. candidate in Xiamen University, China, as well as a visiting fellow at Utrecht University, The Netherlands. He obtained his LL.M. in Xiamen University and LL.B. in Zhongnan University of Economics and Law, China. He is also a research assistant of Cyberspace International Law Center of Xiamen University Law School. His research interests include personal data protection law, cross-border data flow and extraterritorial jurisdiction. The author may be contacted at: lyinsight@163.com

Somia Subi Daniel is a Legal Counsel at a leading multi-sector corporation in the United Arab Emirates. She earned an LL.B. from Bishop Cotton Women's Christian Law College, Bengaluru, India and is currently pursuing Master in Air and Space Law from University of Sharjah, UAE. Her research focuses on Space Law and Air Law. Somia is serving as an in-house Legal Counsel, where she advises on acquisitions, commercial contract negotiation, advising on project investment, designing and implementing company policies & procedures and ensuring compliance with all laws and regulations that apply to the business. The author may be contacted at: somiasubi@gmail.com

Sheer Abbas is an Assistant professor at the Department of Public Law, University of Sharjah, UAE. He has earned his Ph.D. in International Space Law from Beijing institute of Technology. He has published plenty of research papers on Space Law, International Law, Agricultural Policy, Criminology and Public Policy in various internationally referred journals. He may be contacted at: sheer.abbas@sharjah.ac.ae.

Trinh Tien Viet is an Associate Professor at the University of Law, Vietnam National University, Hanoi (VNU), with nearly 25 years of research and teaching in Criminal Law and Criminology. Currently, he is Vice Rector of the University of Law, VNU. Professor Viet is a member of the Editorial Board of Vietnamese Journals: Legal Studies of VNU Journal of Science; Journal of People's Court of the Supreme People's Court; Procuracy Journal of Supreme People's Procuracy of Vietnam; Vietnam Journal of Human Rights Law of Institute of Human Rights - Ho Chi Minh National Academy of Politics. His new research directions include Vietnamese criminal policy in the context of globalization; Artificial Intelligence (AI) crimes and criminal responsibility; Protecting Intellectual Property Rights through Criminal Law. He may be contacted at: ttviet@vnu.edu.vn

Nehaluddin Ahmad is currently a Senior Professor of Law at University Islam Sultan Sharif Ali (UNISSA), Brunei Darussalam. His main teaching and research interests are constitutional law, international law and politics, law and technology, and comparative law. He holds an LL.D. from Meerut University

(India), LL.M. (IT and Telecom. Law) from the University of Strathclyde (UK), and M.A./LL.M./LL.B. from Lucknow University (India). He has practiced law as an advocate at Lucknow Bench of Allahabad High Court, India and worked as a solicitor in Singapore. Professor Ahmad authored books and many refereed academic articles. He may be contacted at: ahmadnehal@yahoo.com.

Faizah Rahim is a doctoral candidate at Sultan Sharif Ali Islamic University (UNISSA), Brunei Darussalam. She holds an LL.M. in International Law and a double degree in Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) and Bachelor of Shariah Law (BSL) from UNISSA. Faizah has made significant academic contributions through journal articles and conference proceedings. She has published several chapters at the upcoming book: “Understanding the Israel-Palestine Conflict.” Her research interest lies in International Criminal Law. Faizah is highly dedicated to exploring and addressing global legal challenges. She may be contacted at: faizahrahim98@gmail.com.

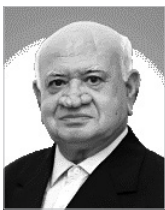

Nurulqayyimah is a doctoral candidate at Sultan Sharif Ali Islamic University (UNISSA), Brunei Darussalam. She holds an LL.M. in International Law and a double degree in Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) and Bachelor of Shariah Law (BSL) from UNISSA, Brunei Darussalam. With a primary interest in International Humanitarian Law, she has published articles in scholarly journals and contributed chapters to the upcoming book: “Understanding the Israel-Palestine Conflict.” She may be contacted at: qayyimah@gmail.com.

Jhih-Siang Liu is an Assistant Professor at the Graduate Institute of China Military Affairs Studies (GICMAS) at National Defense University of Taiwan. He is also a project researcher at the Big Data Research Center and an associate researcher at the Military Law Research Center. Dr. Liu holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from National Taiwan Normal University. His research interests include military diplomacy, PLA Rocket Force, and strategic communication. He has organized and participated in numerous international forums and conferences, and published extensively on topics related to military studies and non-traditional security. Dr. Liu is the Executive Editor of the Fu Hsing Kang Academic Journal. He may be contacted at: garden94030@gmail.com.

Stuart Malawer holds a Ph.D. from the Dept. of International Relations at the University of Pennsylvania. He has a J.D. from the Cornell Law School and a Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law (Research Centre). He also studied at the Harvard Law School and St. Peter's College at Oxford University. Professor Malawer was a member of the Virginia Governor's trade missions to China, India, and Japan. Dr. Malawer was awarded the Hardy Cross Dillard Award by the Virginia State Bar, in recognition of serving as Chairman of its International Practice Section and Special Editor of the Virginia Lawyer. Most recently, he published articles on the US-China trade litigation, Trump's trade policies, and cybersecurity. Recent books have included Trump and Trade - Policy and Law (2021), Global Trade and International Law (2012), US National Security Law (2009), and WTO Law, Litigation and Policy (2007). Professor Malawer served as the Director and Founder of the Graduate International Transactions Program at George Mason University (a masters' program in international affairs). He was subsequently named the Distinguished Service Professor of Law & International Trade, as well as the Director of the Oxford Trade Program. This program was held annually in partnership with St. Peter's College at Oxford and Geneva. The GMU Alumni Association named Professor Malawer the Distinguished Faculty Member of the Year. He was a gubernatorial appointee to the Virginia Economic Development Partnership and recently to the Virginia International Trade Committee. He may be contacted at: StuartMalawer@msn.com.

Badar Alam Iqbal is Distinguished Expert for African Political Economy Policy Lab at the Africa Centre for Strategy and Policy (AFRICACFSP). He is Former Fulbright Visiting Professor and Scholar in Residence (SIR) in 2004 and 2016. Presently, Dr. Iqbal is a Professor Extraordinaries at College of Graduate Studies of the University of South Africa. Professor Iqbal is Editor-in-Chief of Management and Economics Research Journal. He may be contacted at: badar.iqbal@fulbrightmail.org.

Mohd. Nayyer Rahman is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Commerce at Aligarh Muslim University, India. His research areas are International Economics, International Business and Applied Econometrics. His academic publications have covered empirical evidences on BRICS studies, causality relationship of macroeconomic variables and Latin American countries, to name a few. He may be contacted at: mnrahman.co@myamu.ac.in.